- 1. Introduction The Imperial Parliament, recognizing that it has become increasingly obvious within the last several months that Falkenholm College attendance and participation is down, noting that it is essential to find a way to combat these issues and wishing to increase the quantity of graduations and thereby expand the amount of qualified lawyers and judges the Empire has, hereby ordains the creation of a Government Grant for this purpose and allows for the allocation of funds into said subsidy so prospective law students have an easier way to enrol.
- 2. Grant Allocation The funds for a Ministry of Justice Legal Education Grant, henceforth to be referred to as the LEG, shall be provided by HIM Government as part of the monthly budget:
- a) At least 1,650 Saros shall be the amount allocated for the LEG.
  - b) Each month the Parliamentary Judicial Committee shall choose at least three prospective students to distribute the LEG to. If the Committee feels that less than three people are worthy, however much money remains may be held by HIM Government as surplus funds for use elsewhere.
- 3. Exemptions LEG recipients shall be chosen based on three criteria:
- a) They must have a serious interest in Sarovian law and a wish to pursue legal studies.
  - b) They must be aware that they must complete their degree in the span of two months or they will have to pay back the grant money to the Government, which then may be held as surplus funds for use elsewhere.
  - c) They must be aware that upon graduation they must become a lawyer or judge of the Empire and that failure to do so will result in a series of fines.
