1. Short Title This Act shall be known as the Holidays Act of 303 AS in short.
2. Introduction Since the passage of the original version of this Act, while some holidays have been celebrated, others have not. The primary reasons for this are that most Sarovians are either too busy with daily concerns, or that they don't even know about their holidays. The Sarovian people want to celebrate fun holidays, but the system is too complicated and needs to be updated...so, this new version of the National Holidays Act will do this.
3. Types of Holidays There shall be three types of holidays - state holidays, official holidays and common holidays. State holidays are holidays sanctioned and created by order of the Sovereign, and include any day in which the Sovereign accedes the throne, two weeks after their death, marriages or births of heirs. Official holidays are created by statute law and are major holidays. Both official and state holidays result in the closure of all banks during the period of the holiday. Common holidays are holidays which are legally celebrated but do not result in the closure of banks.
4. Holidays The following will be all holidays in order of the calendar:
 - a) New Year's Day - January 1st (Official Holiday)
 - i) A holiday in which the beginning of the new year is celebrated.
